Conservative Congressional Leaders Push to Ban Earmarks... Where is Bob Bennett?

SOUTH JORDAN, UT – Thursday U.S. Senators DeMint, Graham, Coburn, and McCain announced a moratorium on earmarks and a new push for a Balanced Budget Amendment.

Republican Senate candidate Tim Bridgewater voiced his strong support for this effort. “As a nation we need to get our fiscal house in order. Some leaders in Washington seem to have lost all sense of reason, spending this country into oblivion and strapping future generations with crippling debt.”

“I support the efforts of these great Senators to push for a moratorium on earmarks and a Balanced Budget Amendment,” said Bridgewater. “I challenge Senator Bob Bennett to join me and go on the record in support of these critical proposals. After 18 years in the Senate it is time for a leader, not a follower, who will stand up and fight against the destructive spending habits of the past.”

Tim Bridgewater is a small business entrepreneur and candidate for U.S. Senate. He hopes to defeat Senator Bennett at the state convention in May where any candidate who receives 60% of the delegate vote becomes the Republican nominee.
