SALT LAKE CITY – Today marks day three of Tim Bridgewater’s “29 Counties in 29 Days Tour” through Utah. On October 26th, Tim Bridgewater announced that he will be traveling to all 29 counties of the state in 29 days to hear the concerns of citizens and share with them his vision for a better America.

“With a new generation of leaders in Washington, we can guide America into a future where government teaches self reliance and provides an environment where individuals, small businesses and communities can succeed without support from and dependence on Washington’s money changers” Bridgewater tells supporters at various stops along the tour.

On Thursday Tim will be meeting with voters in Garfield, Piute, Wayne, Sevier, and Sanpete Counties explaining why he thinks it is time send a new generation of leaders to Washington D.C.

The following events are scheduled for Thursday October 29th, day four of Bridgewater’s 29 day tour:

Garfield County Visit
Where: Silverado Boys Ranch, Panguitch, UT
When: 10 a.m. .

Sevier County Visit
Where: Sevier County
Building
When: 5:30 p.m.

Piute County Visit
Where: County Government Building
When: 1 p.m.

Sanpete County Visit
Where: Ephraim City Building
Council Room
When: 7:30 p.m.

Wayne County Visit
Where: County Government Building
When: 3:30 p.m.

So far, Tim has visited three counties in three days: Juab, Millard, and Beaver. Regular updates of his schedule will be posted on his campaign website www.timbridgewater.com.
